

SEP 28 '25

©CLM

3177

"THE HONOR SYSTEM"

The whole inside dope on this "Honor System" business that you all hear so much about is that---"If good honest prisoners are given real good care and plenty of liberties, all our jails would need no locks.

Well, in this case, it was working great. All the prisoners wore roller skates and swung merrily up and down the long corridors, in and out of the open doors to the sweet strains of music. Tea and cake was served at 4P.M. every day.

One day, just after tea, four of these honor men, crowned one of the guards and, all made a complete getaway. This was followed at once, by all the other honor graduates, and soon the darned jail was empty.

The guards start out on Motorcycles and Flivers to 'round up t the Herd. There is all kinds of shootin's and such goin's on'round about all that day.

After becoming tired of being chased, two of these prisoners double back and climb over the fence, lock themselves in the jail, just in a jiffy before the cops crash the door.

Then they swing gently down thru the inner jail doors and sweep down the corridors on their roller skates, just as non-challanf as nothing had happened. However we don't know whether or not they smoked Dieties.

ESOP Says:-

"Life Is What You Make It."

This document is from the Library of Congress
“Motion Picture Copyright Descriptions Collection,
1912-1977”

Collections Summary:

The Motion Picture Copyright Descriptions Collection, Class L and Class M, consists of forms, abstracts, plot summaries, dialogue and continuity scripts, press kits, publicity and other material, submitted for the purpose of enabling descriptive cataloging for motion picture photoplays registered with the United States Copyright Office under Class L and Class M from 1912-1977.

Class L Finding Aid:

<https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mbrsmi/eadmbrsmi.mi020004>

Class M Finding Aid:

<https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mbrsmi/eadmbrsmi.mi021002>

National Audio-Visual Conservation Center
The Library of Congress